

Emanuele Misuraca

is an Italian pianist, composer and actor

Born in Palermo in 1996, he began his concert career at the age of 11, subsequently graduating at the conservatory of music the "G. Verdi" in Milan in June 2016, with full marks and honors under the guidance of Maestro Vincenzo Balzani.

Winner of several national and international awards, including the "Monterosa Kawai" award, the "Young Talents with orchestra city of Barlassina" award and the international Mozart award in Rome.

In March 2015 he won the "G. Verdi Conservatory Prize" and was invited to play at the Hungary pavilion of Expo 2016; the concert would be followed live by Hungary and the cities of New York, Toronto and Tokyo.

In 2016 he joined the cast of the Disney film "How to grow up despite parents" where he played the role of David. In 2017 he acted in "Il Cacciatore", a Rai 2 series and in 2018 he played the role of Domenico, one of the seven protagonists of the famous Rai 1 fiction "La compagnia del Cigno".

In addition, Emanuele also composed original music for the documentary "Mexico", awarded as best documentary at the Turin festival and in 2019 he received the "Excellentissimus" award given to him by the well-known Maestro Ennio Morricone.

In 2018 he was also invited to play at an event organized by the Pope in the Vatican, on the occasion of the Synod of young people.